

StudentShapers Recruitment: Calling all FoM MRes Students

Authentic resilience learning through critical reflection and its embedding into the postgraduate curricula

Bursary: £315 per Studentshaper (£45 paid each month for a duration of 7 months)

Who should apply: Current MRes students from Faculty of Medicine

Campus/Location: South Kensington

Project details: Please refer to the 'Participant Information Sheet' provided

Application criteria: Students applying for this project should be:

- Currently studying MRes at FoM, Imperial College London
- Have a keen interest in student learning journeys and skills development
- Willing to work individually as well as part of team to produce required outcomes
- Manage workload and deadlines efficiently
- Available and willing to attend 3 hour face to face Wednesday afternoon sessions on 13/11/19, 15/01/20, 29/04/20 and 13/05/20
- Willing to write and submit 3* reflective statements (500 – 750 words) by the prescribed deadlines (27/11/19, 29/01/20, 01/04/20).

Expected skill development/outcomes: By the end of this project, it is anticipated that you will:

- Better articulate your experiences in an anonymised and constructive way
- Develop team working skills and critical reflective writing skills
- Develop insights into curriculum design/ enhancements
- Gain valuable experience of working as partners with staff
- Gain experience as co-researcher and possibly co-present findings

How to apply: Email l.ramakrishnan@imperial.ac.uk with a short 300 word of expression of interest/ on what motivates you to participate in this project. CVs will not be used for selection, so please DO NOT send any CVs/publication list or any other proof of academic achievements.

Deadline: 06/11/19

Contact details: l.ramakrishnan@imperial.ac.uk